Civil Unrest Daily Briefing

SUBJECT: Daily Briefing for July 11, 2020, as of 1730

I. Overview

Comparing last night's protests to the two previous nights, Portland experienced an increase in both the number of protestors and the level of violence. Groups of violent protestors again attacked federal and local law enforcement officers as well as federal and state buildings. No other significant activities were reported elsewhere.

II. Reported Activity & Potential Hotspots

- Portland, OR: Protest activity in Portland, OR continues, with crowd sizes last night reaching more than 300 people, an increase of 100 compared to the previous two nights. Unlawful activity has increased as well, with protesters spray painting federal buildings, disabling federal security cameras, blocking roadways, assaulting law enforcement officers and attempting to break down a police barricade. In one such instance, a group of violent protestors attempted to use a large hammer to break into a federal building and then, later, assaulted a federal officer with the same. Four arrests were made by Federal law enforcement officers. Three individuals were charged with Assault on a Federal Officer and one was charged destruction of government property. Two federal law enforcement officers reported minor injuries. (DHS Support to Civil Disturbances, July 11)
 - On 8 July, a social media user posted a link to a document that contained the Personal Identifiable Information (PII) of several Portland -based state and local law enforcement (at least 6,053) and federal personnel (at least 312). The document also contained the PII of several DHS personnel, including the likely personal addresses of three FPS personnel and 33 ICE and CBP personnel, the date of birth of two FPS personnel and two ICE personnel, the phone numbers of seven ICE personnel, and various social media profiles of 16 CBP and ICE personnel. (DHS Support to Civil Disturbances, July 11)

Civil Unrest Daily Briefing

SUBJECT: Daily Briefing for July 26, 2020, as of 1900

I. Overview

Over 5,000 people participated in protests outside of the federal courthouse and nearby Edith Greene Federal Building. Violent groups were well-equipped to breach the fence protecting the courthouse. The violent groups were notably well-armed as well. In Atlanta, a group of over 100 people forcibly entered the ICE facility. Richmond and Seattle both reported a night of lawlessness.

II. Reported Activity & Potential Hotspots

- Portland, OR: For most of the night and into the morning, the Courthouse was under a constant barrage by violent groups. One mortar shot damaged glass on the 7th floor. (USMS, July 26; DHS Support to Civil Disturbances, July 26)
 - Violent groups worked throughout the night with angle grinders, bolt cutters and other tools to breach the fence protecting the courthouse. Eventually, groups were able to push it over. Once the violent groups had access to federal grounds, subjects lit fires and assaulted agents. (USMS, July 26; DHS Support to Civil Disturbances, July 26)
 - One FPS officer was injured from a thrown hard object. (USMS, July 26; DHS Support to Civil Disturbances, July 26)
 - As of 0530 EDT, FPS reported 12 arrests; 3 for Failure to Comply, 8 for Assault on a Federal Officer and one for TFR violation. (USMS, July 26; DHS Support to Civil Disturbances, July 26)
- Atlanta, GA: As many as 100 people forcibly entered an ICE field office and ransacked the property. (DHS CETC Note, July 26)
- Richmond, VA: Richmond Police Officers were hit with rocks and lasers by violent protestors before declaring an “unlawful assembly” and breaking up the group. Shortly thereafter, the violent group set a dump truck and dumpster on fire. Firefighters dispatched to put out the fires were also hit with rocks while attempting to extinguish the fire. (EDVA Crim Chief Report, July 26)
 - (b)(7)(E) per FBI [REDACTED]
- Washington, D.C.: No significant activity reported. (DHS Support to Civil Disturbances, July 26)
