Why choose the U.S. Trustee Program (USTP)?

MISSION DRIVEN

The USTP is committed to its mission of promoting the integrity and efficiency of the bankruptcy system for the benefit of all stakeholders—debtors, creditors, and the American public. We carry out a broad array of administrative, enforcement, and regulatory responsibilities, and act to prevent fraud, dishonesty, and overreaching in the bankruptcy system by ensuring all participants comply with the Bankruptcy Code and Rules.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

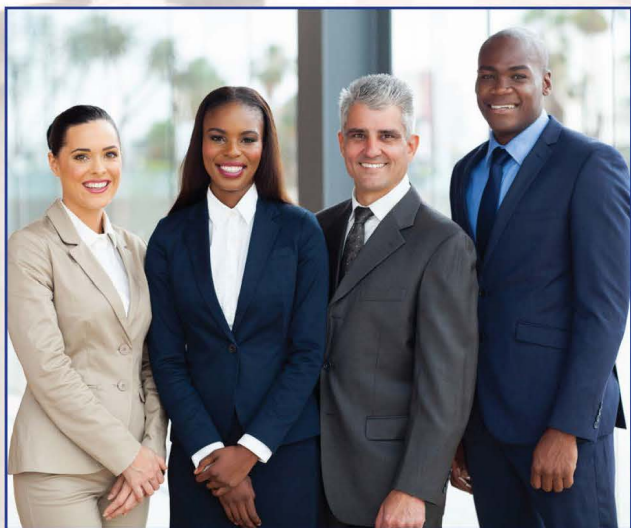

The USTP offers a wide range of career opportunities in the legal, financial, para-professional, administrative, and IT fields. Current non-legal USTP vacancies can be found at www.USAJOBS.gov and legal vacancies at www.justice.gov/legal-careers.

Our legal hiring is open to both entry-level attorneys through the Attorney General's Honors Program and experienced attorneys. In addition, volunteer legal internships are available to law students during the academic year and the summer.

The USTP relies on the diverse backgrounds of its talented and dynamic workforce to ensure the fair and effective administration of bankruptcy cases.

NATIONWIDE PRESENCE

The USTP is composed of a headquarters in Washington, DC, and 21 regions with 89 field office locations. USTP staff appear in about 250 bankruptcy courts and preside over meetings of creditors in every bankruptcy case.

In our more than 35 years as a national program, the USTP has achieved remarkable success in promoting the integrity and efficiency of the bankruptcy system. This is a direct result of the hard work and commitment of our dedicated professionals throughout the country.
